

SANTANA

Ilha

Panorâmica do sítio da Ilha (atual freguesia da Ilha); observam-se: em primeiro plano, poios e um palheiro revestido e com cobertura de colmo; ao centro, a igreja de Nossa Senhora do Rosário. Foto António Aragão, 1973, prova fotográfica, COLFOT, m1069.

Panoramic view of Ilha area (currently Ilha parish); one can see: in the foreground, "poios" (terraced farmed fields) and a thatched hut; in the centre, the church of Nossa Senhora do Rosário. Photo by António Aragão, 1973, photographic print, COLFOT, m1069.

Vista do sítio da Fajã Alta, a partir do sítio da Achada do Gramacho; observam-se: o vale e leito da ribeira de São Jorge; à direita, casas com coberturas de colmo e telha no sítio da Fajã Alta; ao fundo, o sítio da Ilha (atual freguesia da Ilha) e a cordilheira central da Madeira. Foto João Francisco Camacho, entre 1863 e 1876, prova fotográfica, MFM-AV, em depósito no ABM, SFB/1.26.

View of Fajã (flat land) Alta area, from Achada (plateau) do Gramacho area; one can see: the stream of São Jorge valley and bed; on the right, thatched and tiled roof houses in Fajã Alta area; in the background, Ilha area (currently Ilha parish) and Madeira's central mountain range. Photo by João Francisco Camacho, between 1863 and 1876, photographic print, MFM-AV, in deposit at ABM, SFB/1.26.

As duas seer girls from Achada do Marques area, Maria Gomes and Maria da Conceição, accompanied by a boy, two men and a woman, in front of a thatched roof house, in São Jorge parish (currently Ilha parish); the girls have rosaries in their hands and mantillas on their heads; on 12 July 1934, the Virgin Mary allegedly appeared to 12-year-old Maria Gomes, and in the following days appeared again to the same girl and to her cousin, 9-year-old Maria da Conceição; in the following months, the alleged apparitions prompted pilgrimages, which faded over time. Photo by Figueiras, between July 1934 and 1936, glass plate negative, MFM-AV, in deposit at ABM, PHF/1055.

The two seer girls from Achada do Marques area, Maria Gomes and Maria da Conceição, accompanied by a boy, two men and a woman, in front of a thatched roof house, in São Jorge parish (currently Ilha parish); the girls have rosaries in their hands and mantillas on their heads; on 12 July 1934, the Virgin Mary allegedly appeared to 12-year-old Maria Gomes, and in the following days appeared again to the same girl and to her cousin, 9-year-old Maria da Conceição; in the following months, the alleged apparitions prompted pilgrimages, which faded over time. Photo by Figueiras, between July 1934 and 1936, glass plate negative, MFM-AV, in deposit at ABM, PHF/1055.

